

1

The new tin cost exactly what the old tin cost.

VENDOR: Stability.

2

The tin had learned to keep a secret.

RESIDENT: Where did supper go?

3

MEASURER: Liar's floor. Price the grain, not the shadow.

4

By evening, every bottom had to face the sky.

VENDOR: Stability was shorter than advertised.