

After Can Wait

STORY: JULY 3, 2230 · AFTERNOON AT THE COMMONS

1

SADA: A whole new room by supper.
GIRL: Where do they put supper?

2

GIRL: Mine still hasn't got a hook.
SADA: That we can finish.

3

GIRL: On the wall?
SADA: On a board. We can't take the wall.

4

GIRL: Does this mean we're staying?
SADA: No. It means your shirt can hang up.

5

GIRL: Here. Red side out.
SADA: Your choice.

6

SADA: Not much of a transformation.
GIRL: It was on the bed. Now I can be.
